What part does your organization play in this work?
2. What do you desperately want to see in your community (in prevention, treatment and recovery)? What barriers stand in the way?
3. Consider the role your organization plays in substance use disorder. Do you have the scope of services you would like to provide? Can you provide these services at the capacity you would like to?
4. Where do you wish there was more support – be it funding, awareness, or understanding – from your community, from your field, and/or from sources of funding?
